

Understanding Genesis

From a trillion galaxies, having trillions of stars, and billions of trillions of planets, a particular ice-covered planet-size rock (Earth) began to be pulled closer to the sun's solar system. A huge Volcano erupts on the planet bringing the morning light to the planet. Above the lava filled mouth of the immense volcano, lightning, thunders, and great hailstones are created. Water began flowing, from which vapors rise. An atmosphere with clouds and rain is created. The Earth, being pulled into an ideal orbit around the sun, brings forth the first primitive life forms, which continually evolved into plants, animals, and the human specie.

The world continually evolved from an ice-covered planet-sized rock into a garden of paradise and on. This happened because plant life and flowing rivers became more and more nourishing to the creatures that ate and drank of them. As the animals ate and drank the enriched food and water, they became less violent and lived longer. The plants and drinking waters were continually being enriched. Therefore, as time progressed, at some point when future generations of animals ate and drank from the continually enriched plants and waters, the gene that caused plants and animals to think and do wickedly and to think and do lustfully became dormant. Also, certain vegetation combined with the purest and enriched drinking waters gave eternal life to future generations of humans and animals who ate and drank of them.

Accordingly, the gene that made humans and animals grow old had been turned off. Since humans and animals could no longer think or do wickedly or lust, there was no desire to procreate or to kill and eat flesh.

Presently, all animals and perfect humans are living harmoniously and completely natural in the garden of paradise of the real world, where there are no man-made products or any belief in a God. They are unable to have lustful or wicked thoughts or actions. Though, there exists a plant that has the ability to gradually awaken in humans the desire to think and do wickedly and to think and do lustfully. All perfect humans use telepathy of vision without words to communicate with each other. Each human female twin is telepathically connected to her human male twin, while all the human males are telepathically connected to each other like links in a chain. The male and female twins are born from the same mother having a direct telepathic connection to each other and having the memory of their lineage/past lives.

As centuries passed, a certain female twin (being as a female Lucifer) living in the garden of paradise had noticed a serpent eating a particular fruit, which these perfect humans (being referred to as angels) knew they were not to eat of that particular fruit. This particular perfect female (being referred to as a female Lucifer) liked the look of the fruit and decided to eat it as the serpent had done. Also she gave the fruit to her male perfect twin partner (being referred to as a male Lucifer), who also ate of the forbidden fruit. However, this particular fruit had the ability to awaken part of the dormant DNA in perfect humans (angels) that gives them the ability to also think and act lustfully and wickedly.

After the male Lucifer and female Lucifer ate of the fruit that gradually awakens all sorts of desires in perfect humans, they began to telepathically transmit visions of a subtle different type. A male twin and female twin (being Michael/male and Gabriel/female) were among the first perfect humans to telepathically receive these new strange subtle thoughts of lust and wickedness from the male Lucifer and female Lucifer. Thereafter, Michael transmitted telepathically these new thoughts to the next closest linked pair of angels, who also transmitted these thoughts on to the next pair and so on throughout two thirds of angelic tribes, beginning from Michael and Gabriel. From the male Lucifer and female Lucifer were transmitted telepathically their new subtle thoughts of lust and evil to one third of angelic tribes, that are telepathically chain linked together from the male Lucifer.

From the male Lucifer's and female Lucifer's subtle lustful and subtle wicked transmitted thoughts, it awakened the wisdom in Michael and Gabriel. Once this wisdom matured through their dreams, Michael and Gabriel had the realization that their perfect real world and every thing in it was in jeopardy. Wisdom knew that the only way for their world to remain a perfect paradise, the slowly maturing thoughts of lust and wickedness had to be removed from the real world. Michael and Gabriel had to dream a world to reveal what would happen over time if wicked and good thoughts and actions co-existed in the real world. After dreaming many scenarios of a world of good and evil, Michael (but Gabriel more so) had acquired greater wisdom.

Michael (being assisted by his perfect twin female mate Gabriel who had the greater wisdom) dreamed the ultimate scenarios happening in a world of good and evil, which incorporates all necessary situations concerning good and evil. Thereby during the dreamed judgment, the righteous angels and rebellious angels of the real world can know with which group of people in the dreamed world they are equated. Our world was dreamed into existence in six days. In six of our days and six of our nights, all things that existed in Genesis concerning the Earth and universe were recalled from the memory of Michael and Gabriel. However, when Michael (assisted by Gabriel) dreams one day of daylight and night in the real world, this one day is equal to a thousand of our years in this dream world. Accordingly, after six thousand of our years, Michael will have been dreaming for six days to replay the things that existed and happened in every generation. Thereafter Michael is dreaming on the seventh day of the real world the scenario that is happening during the judgment. This seventh day equals 1,000 of our years plus 100 years of the time of this seventh day's even/dusk. During these initial 1,100 years of the judgment, all things are revealed that happened in every generation of our world, including the end of the old world of good and evil, the new world of only good, including what has been happening during the judgment time. For the initial 1,000 years of the dreamed judgment, Michael and Gabriel will reveal telepathically to all angels and to the righteous and rebellious people the ways of a world where good and evil exist. During the final 100 years of the dreamed judgment, all things that happened in the last generation, new Earth, and the judgment time are revealed.

In the real world, perfect humans (angels) live forever and are as super humans having total control of their incredibly developed intellect. Michael and Gabriel also have the natural ability to vividly remember everything and recount every little detail without error.

Our dreamed world of good and evil began as it is written in the initial chapters of the Bible's Book of Genesis. It states that Elohiym created the beginning of our re-dreamed world in six of our days. The Garden of Eden was re-dreamed into existence according to the image and likeness of how the garden of paradise looks in the real world. The Bible states the human male Michael and female Gabriel said "Let us make mankind in our image after our likeness.” Adam and Eve were created in Eden to reveal the scenario of what happened in the real world when the female Lucifer (image and likeness of Eve) and male Lucifer (image and likeness of Adam) ate of a certain forbidden fruit. Adam and Eve reveal how people look and live in the garden of paradise, where they are not aware of being naked, living naturally and harmoniously with their environment, where Lambs live safely (without the perception of fear) with lions. As stated in the Book of Genesis (based on the King James Version/ KJV), Gods/Elohiym commanded Adam and Eve to “replenish” the Earth, just as Adam and Eve had repopulated the Earth with their offspring in the previous replay of their generation.

Elohiym's (Michael's and Gabriel's) mind creates scenarios in our dreamed world whereby a person's role can be determined to be either of the faithful angels or the rebellious angels. The first insight into what took place in the real world is realized when Elohiym warned Adam and Eve to not take and eat from the tree which had the ripened fruit of good and evil. A snake in the tree was eating this fruit in the sight of Adam and Eve.

Subliminally, the serpent was saying to Adam and Eve as it ate the forbidden fruit “you will not die if you eat this forbidden fruit but gain the knowledge of good and evil.” Accordingly, they were seduced by the snake's actions. Eve took the initiative as she walked to the tree, took the desirable looking fruit, and ate of the forbidden fruit and also gave the fruit to her willing husband. Immediately they knew they were naked. This reveals how in the real world the male Lucifer and female Lucifer began to realize subtly for the first time the growing awareness of being naked after eating from a certain forbidden fruit.

In our world's beginning as written in the Book of Genesis, Michael and Gabriel caused Eden's mount to erupt and destroy all plant life in Eden so that Adam and Eve could not eat from the tree of life and live forever. Accordingly, this reveals to us living in the dreamed world that eternal life exists in the real world. The dreamed Garden of Eden's vegetation and nourishing river of life, with many other trees and plants, were destroyed by ash raining down and the intense heat of lava, as lava flowed down from Eden's mount and through to the Garden's four divided rivers. From the time of Eden's destruction, Adam and Eve gave birth to offspring that had the inclination and desire to do good and evil. As Adam and Eve had offspring, it is equated with the real world where the thoughts of the male Lucifer and female Lucifer were telepathically passed to all angels. In our world, Adam and Eve's offspring inherited good and evil desires. This set the stage for a world where people are born with the tendencies to do both good and evil, and to live for a genetically determined amount of years. All people live to play roles in this dreamed world, where people can say and do things in secret, and where pride, hatred, competition, and selfishness for ones own are normal.

Every faithful angel (receiving telepathically from the thoughts of Michael and Gabriel) and every rebellious angel (receiving telepathically from the thoughts of the male Lucifer and female Lucifer) are represented by people who play a righteous or rebellious part in our world. They become righteous or rebellious by their attitude to the new message of a true messenger.

Elohiym's (Michael's and Gabriel's) dreamed world creates scenarios to reveal who in the dreamed world is equated with a faithful angel or rebellious angel in the real world. One scenario shows Cain rejecting the advice of Elohiym to instead offer a strange offering. His feelings were hurt after being rebuked by Elohiym because of his offering. Then, Abel gave his older brother Cain advice pertaining to the rebuke, which he did not want to hear. This angered Cain to the point where he killed his brother and attempted to conceal his actions. The male Lucifer was represented by Cain, and Michael was represented by Abel. However, the female Lucifer is like minded with the male Lucifer, just as the mind of Gabriel is as one with Michael's mind.

After Adam and Eve ate the fruit of the forbidden tree, it meant our world of good and evil would be male dominated. Accordingly, Elohiym generally chooses a male prophet (messenger) who may also represent the female Gabriel because of the situation regarding the dominance of the human male over their female counterparts. In our day, latter day Moses' message is the only means that determines whether a person is righteous or rebellious. Thereby being equated with a faithful angel or rebellious angel. This was also the case of patriarchs and prophets of past generations that represented Michael or Gabriel. In the days of Sodom and Gomorrah, Lot represented Gabriel, while Abraham represented Michael. A throng of Sodom's people were surrounding Lot's house in an attempt to take the two handsome male strangers, whom Michael and Gabriel instantly created temporarily in our dreamed world. They had arrived at Sodom and were taking refuge in Lot's house. The two male strangers represented Michael and Gabriel, whereas the throng outside the house represented the rebellious angels. Lot was warned by the two handsome strangers to flee the doomed city with any person he could convince to leave. Every person that Lot could convince to forsake the city before its destruction would be equated with a faithful angel.

Only the last message, which is revealed by the latter day messenger, can gather the latter day living people who are equated with righteous angels in the real world. Also, this message reveals how the people who end up slain in the final battle of Armageddon had rejected the everlasting gospel. Accordingly, this dream world's rebellious people represent the rebellious angels in the real world that inherited the ways of the male Lucifer and female Lucifer. Every person who believed and stayed faithful to the words of a past living prophet of Elohiym, their minds are in the same people living today who also will believe and stay faithful to the message of latter day Moses in this last generation.

Anything is possible in the world dreamed into existence. Moses' staff became a serpent in front of Pharaoh. However, the male Lucifer and female Lucifer had their representatives and followers in the dreamed world, whereby Pharaoh's magicians were able to make their staffs into serpents in front of Moses. Evidently, Pharaoh and many of his people were representing the male Lucifer and female Lucifer and the rebellious angels, whereas Aaron, Moses, and many faithful Israelite people with them represented Michael and Gabriel and the faithful angels. Elohiym allowed Moses to perform many miracles to bring a nation of people out of Egypt. Initially, all of these people accepted old Moses' message to flee Egypt and travel to a land and inherit it as promised to them by Elohiym.

On the long journey to the Promised Land of Canaan, Elohiym's message concerning the Israelites inheriting the land of Canaan created scenarios whereby a division would materialize between Moses with the faithful people (who were proven to still believe in his message regarding the faithful Israelites receiving the Promised Land) and the opposing leaders with their like-minded rebels. These leaders and their rebels no longer believed Moses could deliver them the Promised Land. This division revealed that the rebellious people in the dreamed world represented the rebellious angels in the real world. To fulfill Elohiym's promise as revealed through Moses, Elohiym gave the following generation of Israelite people the ability to war and drive out nations from the Promised Land of Canaan. This is equated with the time when faithful angels will remain in the Promised Land of the real world after the rebellious angels no longer live in the paradise of the real world.

To fulfill Elohiym's (Michael's and Gabriel's) plan, Moses and Joshua received in the dreamed world the ability to perform many miracles in the sight of people. Joshua was able to command the sun to remain still in the sky (being an impossible act in a real world) so that they could finish their removal of Canaanites with the extra time of sunlight. These miracles were necessary to establish an Israelite people in their own land to live by Elohiym's laws. The old Promised Land was a reflection of how faithful believers that followed the new message of a living messenger inherit a new Earth. Also the Israelite nation would preserve historic and prophetic writings that would survive to the last generation of the dreamed world. The Israelites' historic lineage, laws, and the Promised Land established by Elohiym were a reflection of the good knowledge which the righteous angels receive from Michael and Gabriel, just as righteous people become righteous by believing in Michael and Gabriel's living messenger's message.

For Israel's own good and prosperity in the Promised Land, the nation was commanded to continually remember, follow, and preserve their written laws and history, which pertained to its lineage from the time of the dreamed world's creation (as stated in the initial chapters of the Book of Genesis) through to its occupation of the Promised Land of Canaan. However, in the following generations of Israelites that lived in the Promised Land, many among the Israelite people rejected new laws and direction given through Elohiym's living prophets. Instead, the people wanted a king/leader to rule over them. The appointed king and his advisers would then rule over the whole nation. Eventually, the king, his princes, and false prophets would influence and corrupt the temple's high priest, priests, and elders. The false prophets generally interpreted God's will in favor of whatever the king and his advisers wanted to accomplish. Accordingly, the people accepted and fulfilled the king's demands, which carried the corrupt high priest's, priests, and elders' blessings and the blessings of false prophets.

Since our world was dreamed into existence and allowed to play through to its end and thereafter replayed many times over during the judgment, it means Elohiym (Michael and Gabriel) knows every thing that exists and happens and what people will say and do before it happens. Hence, there is nothing new under the sun; everything that exists has already existed in the previous replay of each generation. Accordingly, in every replayed generation, Elohiym would send a person in whom was the spirit/mind of Michael or Gabriel to deliver Elohiym's message to the nation, which usually had nothing good to say about the king and leaders of the people. Elohiym knew that this would create a division, because the king and his advisers would, of their own human free will, always choose to reject the living prophet's words of warning pertaining to the nation, king, his advisers, and people. Instead the king, his advisers, and people believed the words of false prophets, who claimed falsely that God was with them. The following generation of people living in the Promised Land would embrace the written words of Elohiym's dead prophets because their words of warning had happened as prophesied, even though their fore fathers had rejected, persecuted, and in many instances killed Elohiym's prophets and the people who believed their words of warning.

The influence of the nation's religious and political leaders was so great that their nation's people would always accept their words over the warnings of Elohiym's living prophets. However, a remnant would instead go against the beliefs of mainstream society, including the beliefs of many off shoots, and accept and stay faithful to the message of a living prophet in the face of ridicule and rejection by family, loved ones, friends, and associates. Many of these people endured punishment, imprisonment, and often times death for staying faithful to the words of Elohiym's living messenger. Thereby, these people revealed that a spirit/mind of a faithful angel dwelt in their mind.

The Isrealite leadership that ruled over the nation always rejected, punished, imprisoned, and usually killed Elohiym's prophets and the people who converted to their message. Thereafter that generation or the following generation met their fate according to the message of Elohiym's prophet. When the words of Elohiym's prophet happened as predicted, the next Israelite leadership would then accept the dead prophet's written visions. Accordingly, they would preserve in writings his prophetic words from generation to generation, which also contained prophecies concerning how and when the dreamed world ends.

Elohiym predicted, as spoken by the true prophets, that the nation of Israel in the Promised Land of Canaan would split into two separate nations, a northern and southern, after King Solomon's death. Thereafter, Elohiym's prophets warned that the northern kingdom of Israel would be taken into captivity by the Assyrian army, which happened as predicted. Captivity could have been avoided if the leaders of the northern kingdom of Israel agreed to serve the Assyrian nation, as counseled to the leadership of the northern kingdom by Elohiym's prophets.

Other prophets, in whom was the spirit of Michael or Gabriel, were sent to speak Elohiym's words to the leaders of the remaining southern kingdom of Judah. These leaders were admonished by Elohiym's prophets to serve King Nebuchadnezzar of old Babylon, as many other nations had done, or rebel and face expulsion from Judea for a number of years. The Judean king and his patriotic advisers chose to reject Elohiym's counsel and instead rebel against serving the king of Babylon, as counseled by false prophets claiming to have been sent by Elohiym. Accordingly as predicted, the city Jerusalem and her temple were destroyed along with its king. Judah's population was removed from their land and made to serve in foreign lands of Babylon's kingdom, just as it happened in a previous replay of that generation.

In the days of old Babylon's reign over many nations, a prophet of Elohiym revealed that the Medes and Persians would unite to become the next kingdom to rule over the whole realm of old Babylon. Also, Elohiym's prophet predicted that the king of Persia would decree to allow many peoples and nations, which had been taken into captivity by the Babylonians, to return to the land of their fathers. Accordingly as predicted, the following generation of Judeans born in Babylonian captivity were permitted to return to the land of Judah and to rebuild Jerusalem and her temple.

Elohiym's prophet also predicted that Grecia/Greece would reign over the whole kingdom of the Medes and Persians. Then after a certain amount of years, the expanded kingdom of Grecia would be divided into four kingdoms. From the western part of these four kingdoms arose the Roman empire. Elohiym knew the future outcome concerning Jerusalem and Judah before Jerusalem's leadership chose to rebel against serving the Roman empire. After Jerusalem's rebellion, Rome sent its army to lay siege on the fortified walls of rebellious Jerusalem until the Roman army found a way to enter, ravage, destroy the rebellious city of Jerusalem and her rebuilt temple, and deport the Judean people to serve in foreign lands. This scenario would cause many of the writings pertaining to Elohiym's prophets to be eventually lost and forgotten, as there would be no Israelite or Judean nation to religiously preserve and copy the prophets' scrolls as they had been copied from generation to generation. With this hindsight, Elohiym caused Yahshua/Jesus to create a new religion, which would flourish and thereby the Old Testament and New Testament scriptures would be faithfully copied throughout all New Testament generations.

Within Elohiym's (Michael's and Gabriel's) mind is where our world and all things that exist and happening in and around it are being replayed. As time progressed in our world, there are more people, animals, technology, products, and sophisticated macro and micro items for the mind of Elohiym to recreate without error during every replay of our dreamed world. In the latter days of the dreamed world, all its animals, peoples, technology, products, and all things are being replayed from the memory of Elohiym just as they existed and happened in a previous replay. After the apostles and disciples of Yahshua/Jesus finished establishing a people that would religiously preserve and copy the scriptures of Elohiym's prophets, miracles were phased out. The reason is that after the apostles and disciples died, the people living in following generations would progressively become more logical and scientific rather than superstitious. The last generation reveals the ultimate in logical and scientific thinking in a world where good and evil exists.

During many generations leading up to the last generation before the falling star's impact opens the bottomless pit, Elohiym's mind (where this world is recreated) no longer permits magic (miracles) to happen. Elohiym's mind is revealing a world that is based more on practical, logical, and scientific way of how things should happen in the dreamed world. Therefore, a book (Bible) was purposely preserved by Elohiym as the only logical means of preparing latter day Moses and his apostles to give the final warnings concerning the falling star's imminent impact that opens a super volcano in Yellowstone National Park. After the fallen star's impact causes the super volcano to erupt smoke and ash for five months, Elohiym's mind will then allow certain miracles to happen to facilitate in gathering a great multitude from all nations during a time of trouble.

In a previous replay of every generation of our world, Elohiym has seen the effects of a living prophet's ministry on people who live in future generations and last generation. Accordingly, in an earlier replay of our world, Yahshua/Jesus was conceived in a normal way from the seed of Joseph in the womb of Mary. Also, in that particular replay, Yahshua did not perform miracles, had less apostles and friends, and did not offer eternal salvation. This did not have the desired effect to create converts in future generations that would feverishly defend and spread their belief in Jesus and salvation. Neither would the old and new testament scriptures exist to be religiously preserved in such a way as to be considered sacred. Elohiym needed the scriptures of prophets to be carefully and accurately interpreted and copied into all languages and be preserved to the last generation. The reason is so that the scriptures would instruct the latter day messenger and his apostles and disciples of things that will happen before and after the star's impact.

Elohiym reedited several times Jesus' generation until

Jesus' life and ministry had the greatest impact on people living in future generations. Elohiym caused Yahshua/Jesus in a replay of Jesus' generation to be born without Mary being impregnated with the seed of her husband Joseph. During a replay of the Prophet Isaiah's generation (who lived several hundred years before Jesus was born), Elohiym told Isaiah to write that a "virgin" shall conceive a son. When Yahshua/Jesus read what Isaiah had written concerning a virgin giving birth, Jesus thought he was fulfilling the written prophecies of the Old Testament when in fact those writings were written to prophesy of things that had already happened in a previous replay. Accordingly, certain parts of Jesus' life were being written by old testament prophets (that had lived and died hundreds of years before Jesus was born) after Jesus had lived and died.

During the time of the judgment, dead rebellious people will manifest in the spirit (Ghost) to be shown from the written record of the scrolls and last scroll/scroll of life why they are not living a life in the new Earth. These rebellious people had rejected the message of a living messenger in the generation they had lived, and also they had failed to accept the everlasting gospel when they resurrected at the time when the star's impact opened the super volcano. These people failed to overcome their old beliefs and accept the present truth that reveals how this world ends the same way it had ended in a previous replay. There will be many religious people that were not saved because they rejected the present truth message of a living prophet, having failed to overcome their old beliefs that were based on someone's interpretation of what former prophets, messiahs, or messengers had said and written. However, the messages of former prophets, messiahs, and messengers applied only to the people that lived in their generation.

Moses' written laws and rituals pertained to the Israelite people only. They were to continue in those laws and rituals until a prophet of Elohiym told them to do differently or gave them a message of warning to also follow. In an Old Testament generation, a living prophet stated that Elohiym no longer cared whether people kept the Sabbath or feast days. Other prophets said the same, and also predicted that old Babylon would burn and destroy the temple, causing the golden Ark of the Testament to melt, be cut in pieces, and forever be destroyed. Hundreds of years later, religious leaders and zealots tried to trap Yahshua/Jesus by trying to assert that Jesus must obey Moses' laws, even though the prevailing law in Judah at the time was enforced according to Roman decree. Elohiym caused Jesus to perform many miracles, from healing, creating food, raising the dead (miracles are not possible in a real world) for the sole reason as to gather a remnant of believers of that generation and also preserve Old and New Testament historic and prophetic writings, that would exist in the latter day generation. Yahshua's promise of salvation and the redemption of all sins pertained to people living in Yahshua's and the apostles' generation. Yahshua's and his apostles' and disciples' ministries set the stage for future generations to be converted, whereby they would religiously copy and safely preserve the Old and New Testament writings from generation to generation. Elohiym allowed Jesus to make promises to non believers of things past prophets had not promised: salvation, pardon for all sins committed, eternal life, and his sacrificed life and message for the redemption of any sinner living in Yahshua's and his apostles' generation only. There are absolutely no promises of salvation and redemption of sin by Yahshua and his apostles and disciples for any person who was not living in their generation. Unfortunately for any Christians believing after the generation of Yahshua/Jesus and his apostles and early disciples, all biblical statements of salvation spoken by Jesus and his apostles and early disciples apply only to people living in their generation of about 2000 years ago. In every generation after the apostles' generation, people became righteous Christians overcoming their old beliefs by believing Elohiym's new message given by a living messenger. Every person that overcame and believed in a true living prophet will be resurrected to proclaim the everlasting gospel while the super volcano is erupting smoke and ash for five months. After they have proclaimed the everlasting gospel and caused a great multitude to overcome their old beliefs, all overcomers will enter the ensign of new Jerusalem to live a new everlasting life as perfect humans knowing only good in the Eden of the new Earth. At the same time, all overcomers will be within new Jerusalem during the judgment when each scroll that recorded the things that happened in each generation is revealed.

In the last generation, Elohiym reveals the final message from the written prophecies of the Bible to the latter day living messenger. Thereby, the living messenger and his apostles can reveal the final warnings as written in the Bible before the fallen star's impact opens the bottomless pit. The people that believe the living messenger's message in the latter days will play a part as a righteous person who believes, is resurrected to life and health to join living believers that proclaim the everlasting gospel, and then plays a part in a new Earth and in the judgment. During the judgment, the rebellious angels and righteous angels will be telepathically viewing what took place in each generation of this dreamed world.

All events taking place in our world are being replayed. This is realized when Elohiym revealed to Jesus that before the next sunrise Peter will deny three separate times that he was associated with Jesus. Elohiym accurately knew the future because Peter had done the same thing in a previous replay of Jesus' generation. Jesus was betrayed by Judas Escariot, arrested by the authorities in the garden of Gethsemane, imprisoned, tried, and found guilty for minor violations of the law. He was also found guilty of the more serious offense of blasphemy, which incurred the death penalty but could not be enforced by the Judean leadership. The Judean leadership instead pressured the Roman governor, who had Yahshua/Jesus tried by the Judean people that sentenced him to death. He was crucified, died, and then resurrected. Without Jesus' resurrection and thereafter appearing alive to his apostles and disciples, his converts would have lost their faith, causing the new religion of Christianity to fail. After Jesus appeared to his apostles, it was also necessary for Elohiym to establish the idea of salvation through Jesus' sacrifice by giving the apostles and early disciples the ability to perform miracles. This was necessary to promote salvation through Jesus' name to make many converts throughout the nations before Rome destroyed Jerusalem and deported the Judean people, which meant that the scriptures would have been lost as time passed. According to the latter day messenger's understanding of the scriptures preserved in modern day Bibles, a resurrection happens in this last generation at the time the fallen star's impact causes a super volcano to erupt smoke and ash continually. The latter day messenger reveals from the Bible's written scriptures that all non overcomers that lived and died in all past generations will resurrect to life and health to have an opportunity to overcome their old beliefs and accept the everlasting gospel and be saved before the world ends in an overflowing and spreading lake of fire (lava).

Jesus' apostles and early disciples had established the Christian religion, which was according to Elohiym's desire to preserve the Old and New Testament scriptures throughout the generations to the last generation. In this last generation, the preserved scriptures are found in the Bible because they were adopted and accepted by nations that became Christian nations. Accordingly, the scriptures of Old and New Testament prophets were preserved, translated, and copied. Many of these preserved manuscripts have been translated and compiled in a book called the Bible. Because Jesus' apostles and disciples proclaimed the miracles performed by Jesus, death and resurrection of Jesus, and promise of salvation to live forever in a new world, today there is a Bible written in the language of every nation. In a world that is based on logic, scientific, and technological ideas and things, the Bible is the only means that Elohiym communicates to the latter day messenger prior to the star's impact opening the super volcano.

In the days of old Babylon's reign, Daniel the prophet wrote his manuscript of how the world will end. Daniel revealed in his writings that the last kingdom to reign ends when a stone is ejected high into the atmosphere from a mountain and falls as a great star to open the bottomless pit. This stone's impact causes the super volcano (mountain) to swell to heaven and explode magma into the sky as its immense 40-mile wide mouth fills with a lake of fire. Then, when the lake of fire overflows and spreads to cover the world, it is referred to as the impacted stone becoming a great mountain (super volcano) that covers the world in a lake of lava. Thereafter, the judgment begins.

Before latter day Babylon begins its reign, a nation (USA) causes an overwhelming display of fire (missiles) from heaven to fall on a rogue nation. Then the USA causes the union of nations to unite and enforce the USA's ideals on the overthrown nation. This situation happens three separate times before the final/third reigning period of latter day Babylon comes to its end when the fallen star's (stone's) impact causes a super volcano to erupt smoke and ash for five months. Prior to latter day Babylon's kingdom ending, the union of nations agrees to enforce what the USA's leadership envisions for the world on certain non-conforming nations. Any nation that refuses to comply with the USA's vision that it promotes and prophesies for the world's future will be hit with economic sanctions and/or military intervention. When the union of nations agrees to enforce the USA's vision for the world on non-conforming nations, it is then ruling as the latter day seven-headed ten-horned beast of confusion/Babylon. The USA's vision for the world's future is contrary to the visions and oracles revealed from the Bible by the latter day messenger, who reveals that the world will soon replay its fated end. The latter day messenger prophesies of latter day Babylon's and the world's imminent demise, according to the manuscripts compiled in the Bible that were written by Elohiym's former prophets. These particular manuscripts have been copied from generation to generation, which have survived to be compiled in the Bible. Prior to the end of latter day Babylon's final reigning period, the latter day messenger's message causes a division among the people, whereby some will overcome their old beliefs and stay faithful to his message while the minds of the majority are held captive by the general ways and traditions of society.

The end of this world will happen again as predicted by the written prophecies in the Bible, which can be correctly interpreted only by the latter day messenger. His interpretation reveals that the USA's states will begin being tormented by darkness, anarchy, and famine during five months when smoke and ash are erupting from the super volcano. This will happen when the fallen star impacts the USA causing an earthquake. This earthquake causes a super volcano (beneath Yellowstone National Park) to erupt smoke and ash for five months. Darkness will begin spreading over the states of the USA. Hence, the light of the sun by day and moon and stars by night will be progressively, as it were, blotted out. Progressing darkness, famine, and anarchy will torment the USA's states. Thereafter, the total collapse of latter day Babylon's kingdom happens when the super volcano swells to heaven and overflows with a spreading lake of fire.

During the initial five months of billowing smoke and ash into the atmosphere over the USA, all resurrected overcomers with living overcomers will be proclaiming the everlasting gospel to all nations. At the end of the five months of smoke and ash, all overcomers will flee the USA. They will have forsaken the USA because they placed the messenger's message upon the front of their mind/forehead before the super volcano swells to heaven and overflows with a spreading lake of fire. The people living in all nations will hear the message that warns of the super volcano swelling high into the atmosphere and exploding magma, as the super volcano's huge 40-mile wide mouth fills and thereafter overflows with a lake of lava, which spreads to cover the USA's states and all the world. All overcomers will also proclaim that the great explosion of magma creates a great sound of thunder, which is equated with a trumpet being blown. This explosion causes a great earthquake such as never happened. Also there will be an intensely bright white light above and around the lifted-up to heaven super volcano's immense mouth overflowing with a lake of lava. A huge whirlwind of fire will materialize around the super volcano's mountain overflowing with a lake of fire. This huge tornado spawns many smaller tornadoes of fire around it. Great hailstones with coals of fire will be raining upon the states of the ruined USA. The huge whirlwind of fire around the lifted-up to heaven new mount Zion of the super volcano is equated with new Jerusalem. An intensely bright light will be radiating around and above new Jerusalem. The overcomers that proclaimed the everlasting gospel during the five months of smoke and ash erupting from the super volcano will convert a great multitude of people of all nations. The overcomers will instruct the great multitude to wait for the great sound of the trumpet (great thunder) and the land-splitting great earthquake and then travel quickly to the intensely bright white light (ensign) that will be emanating around and above new Jerusalem in the destroyed USA. All overcomers and the great multitude of overcomers will enter the bright light of the ensign to be within new Jerusalem before lava has spread from within the USA to consume all things. A lake of lava flows out of the lifted-up to heaven super volcano's mouth in the destroyed USA to consume all oceans, countries, and islands of the world.

Every person that accepted in their mind/forehead the message of the everlasting gospel, proclaimed during five months of smoke and ash, will forsake their loved ones, possessions, and nation to travel to the intensely bright white light of the ensign emanating from new Jerusalem and the lifted-up to heaven super volcano's immense mouth. When all overcomers have entered the bright light emanating from New Jerusalem and the world is covered in a lake of flowing fire, from that time the overcomers will be living in a new heaven and new Earth without any memory that an old heaven and old Earth existed. At the same time, all overcomers will also take their place before the fiery judgment throne as the judgment begins when the world is covered in a lake of fire. These faithful people will then be equated with the faithful angels in the garden of paradise of the real world. All the rebellious people that will have rejected the everlasting gospel having chose to instead remain with their loved ones and possessions in their land in the hope of surviving will have perished, as the entire world will be dissolved in a spreading lake of lava. All rebellious people will manifest in the spirit outside New Jerusalem to view the judgment taking place. These rebellious spirits (ghosts) will then be equated with the rebellious angels in the real world.

After the entire dreamed world is covered by an overflowing and spreading lake of lava, the dreamed judgment will begin. What this means is, Michael and Gabriel will then reveal telepathically all events that took place in this world to all the angels living in the garden of paradise of the real world. It is the place where the faithful perfect humans and rebellious perfect humans live in the real world. During the initial 1,100 years of the judgment, Michael and Gabriel have remembered and revealed, just as many books are opened to recount their stories, all things that existed and happened in each generation of this dreamed world. In that time, their memories revealed the things that happened in a world of good and evil to all angels living in the garden of paradise of the real world.

They telepathically reveal how in every generation of a dreamed world where good and evil existed, there were people suffering from poverty, illness, famine, wars, deformity, victims of crime, depression, suicide, hatred, and painful deaths, etc, while at the same time others were surrounding themselves with excessive possessions of wealth, comfort, lust, envy, greed, selfishness, and immorality.

Michael and Gabriel will also reveal how they created a flood of waters to rain and drown all of mankind, except the faithful few people and animals that were saved in an ark-shaped boat by believing Elohiym's words of warning. After these visions are revealed to the faithful angels and rebellious angels, all of them will view the spirits of rebellious people and righteous people around the great white judgment throne agreeing on bent knees that Michael and Gabriel are righteous/correct to destroy in a flood of waters all the evils that were taking place, including the people that chose to reject Noah's warnings and remain on the land. After the flood were born the future generations of people from the genetics of the most upstanding living man Noah. Thereby Noah's descendants would have the best genetics that would be passed down from generation to generation to reveal the best possible society in a world where people are able to simultaneously know/do good and evil.

During the dreamed judgment, Michael and Gabriel reveal telepathically to all angels (perfect humans) how, in every generation of the dreamed world, the leaders would always reject the prophets that Elohiym (Michael and Gabriel) sent to warn them of impending danger. Instead of these leaders obeying the words of warning, they and their people revealed their human nature by choosing to reject, punish, imprison, and often times kill Elohiym's messengers and the people that followed them. Michael and Gabriel will show telepathically the visions that reveal how these leaders and their people were overthrown and destroyed by foreign nations, as warned by the living messenger. The angels in the garden of paradise are viewing telepathically the events that happened in the dreamed world during the judgment, as they see the manifested spirits of rebellious people and righteous people playing a part in the judgment scene all agreeing on bent knees that Michael and Gabriel were right to allow the overthrow and destruction of Sodom, old Israel, Judah and Jerusalem, as warned by Elohiym's prophets.

After the initial thousand years of the dreamed judgment, Michael and Gabriel for a little season (equal to 100 of our years) recalled from their memory, as if recorded in the last scroll/scroll of life, the time when latter day Babylon was reigning three separate times in the last generation of the dreamed world. They revealed the things that happened and how nations and people rejected the everlasting gospel to be consumed by a lake of lava overflowing from the huge mouth of the lifted-up to heaven super volcano. After the faithful angels and rebellious angels view telepathically Michael's and Gabriel's visions and oracles within each of their own minds, they will again see the spirits of rebellious people and righteous people around the judgment throne all fall on their knees to declare that Michael and Gabriel are righteous for allowing the deaths of rebellious people that rejected the living messenger's message of warning and also rejected the everlasting gospel. Michael and Gabriel also revealed telepathically a vision to the righteous and rebellious angels that shows how the people that accepted the living messenger's message and the people that accepted the everlasting gospel escaped death by the plagues loosed from the erupting super volcano and are seen dwelling in a newly dreamed earth. The new Earth will have been created after the old dreamed Earth was dissolved in a lake of fire.

During the judgment that is presently happening, all generations from Genesis through the last generation are replayed many times over and over. This is necessary to educate the righteous angels and rebellious angels concerning the ways and things that happen in this world of good and evil. After a certain amount of replays, the male Lucifer and female Lucifer will understand that after a certain amount of years they will die because of eating the fruit of good and evil, just as Adam and Eve died because they ate the fruit of good and evil. Also they will realize that the perfect world where they live will become like the dreamed world, where people lie, cheat, steal, kill change the natural into unnatural, have illnesses, birth defects, and die. A terrible feeling of sadness and despair falls upon the male Lucifer and female Lucifer, whereby they no longer want to eat and drink, as their perfect bodies wither away and die. The angels that are of the male Lucifer and female Lucifer will also experience a terrible feeling of sadness and despair when they also realize that their parents are to die. When the male Lucifer and female Lucifer have died, their angels will also be of such sadness and despair that they will not have the appetite to eat or drink, as they wither away and die.

Our dreamed world of good and evil is created by Elohiym's mind. It is dreamed into existence to reveal how a world of good and evil acts to reveal what will happen to the real world if evil ways are allowed to coexist with good ways. The latter day messenger's message will find the people in this dreamed world that are equated with the perfect faithful angels living in the garden of paradise of the real world. After the fallen star's impact has opened the bottomless pit and the resurrection of all the dead to life and health has happened, all faithful overcomers of their old beliefs will be saved from the plagues that are loosed from the opened super volcano, be living in a new heaven and Earth, and be within new Jerusalem during the judgment.
