

Understanding Genesis

In the real world, all animals and perfect humans are living harmoniously and completely natural in the garden of paradise, where there are no man-made products or any belief in a God. They are unable to have lustful or wicked thoughts or actions. Though, there exists a plant that has the ability to gradually awaken in humans the desire to think and do wickedly and to think and do lustfully. All perfect humans use telepathy of vision without words to communicate with each other. Each human female twin is telepathically connected to her human male twin. All the human males are telepathically connected to each other like links in a chain, as are all human females. The male and female twins are born from the same mother having a direct telepathic connection to each other and having the memory of their lineage/past lives.

As milleniums passed, a certain female twin (being as a female Lucifer) living in the garden of paradise had noticed a serpent eating a particular fruit, which these perfect humans (being referred to as angels) knew they were not to eat of that particular fruit. This particular perfect female (being referred to as a female Lucifer) liked the look of the fruit and decided to eat it as the serpent had done. Also she gave the fruit to her male perfect twin partner (being referred to as a male Lucifer), who also ate of the forbidden fruit. However, this particular fruit had the ability to awaken part of the dormant DNA in perfect humans (angels) that gives them the ability to also think and act lustfully and wickedly.

After the male Lucifer and female Lucifer ate of the fruit that gradually awakens all sorts of desires in perfect humans, they began to telepathically transmit visions of a subtle different type. A male twin and female twin (being Michael and his twin female/spouse) were among the first perfect humans to telepathically receive these new strange subtle thoughts of lust and wickedness from the male Lucifer and female Lucifer. Thereafter, Michael transmitted telepathically these new thoughts to the next closest linked pair of angels, who also transmitted these thoughts on to the next pair and so on throughout two thirds of angelic tribes, beginning from Michael and his twin female/spouse. From the male Lucifer and female Lucifer were transmitted telepathically their new subtle thoughts of lust and evil to the remaining one third of angelic tribes, that are telepathically chain linked together from the male Lucifer and female Lucifer.

From the male Lucifer's and female Lucifer's subtle lustful and subtle wicked transmitted thoughts, it awakened the wisdom in Michael and his female twin. Once this wisdom matured through their dreams, Michael and his female twin had the realization that their perfect world and everything in it was in jeopardy. Wisdom was understood to realize that the only way for the real world to remain a perfect paradise, the slowly maturing thoughts of lust and wickedness had to be removed from the real world.

Michael and his female twin had to dream a world to reveal what would happen over time if wicked and good thoughts and actions co-existed in the real world. After dreaming many scenarios of a world of good and evil, Michael and his twin spouse had acquired the necessary wisdom to reveal the best outcome of a world where good and evil exists. Accordingly, the first timeline from Genesis through to the last generation reveals what happens when good and evil thoughts co-exist in the minds of humans, animals, and the world.

Michael (being assisted by his perfect twin female/spouse) dreamed the scenarios happening in a world of good and evil, which incorporates all necessary situations concerning good and evil. Thereby during the dreamed judgment, the righteous angels and rebellious angels of the real world can know with which group of people in the dreamed world they are equated. In the first timeline of our world, our world was dreamed into existence in six days. In six of our days of sunlight and six of our nights, all things that existed in Genesis concerning the Earth and universe were recalled from the memory of Michael and his twin spouse. Michael dreams the things happening in the evenings, while his twin spouse dreams the things happening during sunlight. When Michael and his twin spouse dream a day (night and daylight equal one day) in the real world, this one day is equal to a thousand of our years in this dream world. Accordingly, after six thousand of our years, Michael and his twin spouse will have been dreaming for six days to replay the things that existed and happened in every generation. Thereafter Michael and his twin spouse are dreaming on the seventh day of the real world the scenarios that are happening during the judgment. This seventh day equals 1,000 of our years, which are replayed over and over during the time of the ending of the seventh evening, as the sun is dawning. During the judgment, all things that happened in every generation of our world are replayed, including the end of our old world of good and evil, the new world of only good, and what has been happening during the judgment. During the dreamed judgment that is presently happening, Michael and his twin spouse have been revealing telepathically to all angels in the real world the things that happened in all replayed generations of a world where good and evil exist.

In the real world, perfect humans (angels) live forever and are as super humans having total control of their incredibly developed intellect. Michael and his twin spouse also have the natural ability to vividly remember everything and recount every little detail without error. The visions and oracles written on Michael's memory have witnessed the things that males did in all generations.

These memories of what males did in each generation are likened to visions and oracles written on each scroll's first side. The visions and oracles written on Michael's twin spouse's memory have witnessed the things that females did in all generations. These memories of what females did in each generation are likened to visions and oracles written on each scroll's other side.

In the first timeline of all generations of the dreamed world, the last generation ended in a lake of fire. The lake of fire had overflowed and spread from the swelled to heaven super volcano in the USA to spread throughout the world. Thereafter, the lake of fire that spread throughout the world hardened and the world became covered by a sea of waters. However, the lake of fire (and the intense light radiating from it) was still in the immense mouth of the swelled to heaven super volcano but no longer overflowing from within the dissolved USA. Thereafter the old heaven and old Earth that ended in a lake of fire was replaced by the dreamed new heaven and new Earth, for the redeemed to live therein. At the end of the old heaven and old Earth by a lake of fire, the initial 1,000 years of the judgment began with the opening of each scroll's first side (equated with the memory of Michael) to replay all things that happened in each generation of the dreamed world.

As each generation was being replayed during the initial 1,000 years of the judgment, the things being replayed in each generation were being written as visions and oracles on the last small part (equated with the ending of the seventh evening) of the seventh part (equated with the seventh evening) of the last scroll's (scroll of life's) first side (equated with seven evenings). At the same time, the first small part (equated with the beginning of the seventh day's morning sun at dawn) of the seventh part (equated with the seventh day's sunlight) of the scroll of life's other side (equated with seven days of sunlight) was recording the visions and oracles being written on the last small part of the seventh part of the scroll of life's first side, just as the ending of the seventh evening (when the moon's light is just below the westerly horizon) is witnessed by the beginning of the seventh day's morning sun just below the easterly horizon at dawn. Accordingly, the first small part (equated with the seventh day's morning sun at dawn) has the same visions and oracles that are written on the last small part. Therefore the first small part is the son of the last small part (father) because this son looks just like his father.

Some time after the initial 1,000 years of the judgment, all generations were being replayed according to the visions and oracles written on the last small part of the seventh part of the scroll of life's first side and according to the visions and oracles written on the first small part of the seventh part of the scroll of life's other side. From the visions and oracles written on the first small part and last small part, our dreamed world of good and evil began to be replayed as it is written in the initial chapters of the Bible's Book of Genesis. It states that Elohiym re-created the beginning of our re-dreamed world in six of our days. The Garden of Eden was re-dreamed into existence according to the image and likeness of how the garden of paradise looks in the real world. The Bible states that the human male Michael and his twin spouse said "Let us make mankind in our image after our likeness." Adam and Eve were created in Eden to reveal the scenario of what happened in the real world when the female Lucifer (image and likeness of Eve) and male Lucifer (image and likeness of Adam) ate of a certain forbidden fruit. Adam and Eve reveal how people look and live in the garden of paradise, where they are not aware of being naked, living naturally and harmoniously with their environment, where Lambs live safely (without the perception of fear) with lions. As stated in the Book of Genesis (based on the King James Version/ KJV), Gods/Elohiym commanded Adam and Eve to "replenish" the Earth, just as Adam and Eve had repopulated the Earth with their offspring in the previous replay of their generation.

The mind of Michael (God the father) and Gabriel (son of God) replayed the scenarios that happened in our dreamed world, so that a person's role in life can be determined to be either of the faithful angels or the rebellious angels. The first insight into what happened in the real world is realized when Elohiym warned Adam and Eve to not take and eat from the tree which had the ripened fruit of good and evil. A snake in the tree was eating this fruit in the sight of Adam and Eve. Subliminally, the serpent was saying to Adam and Eve as it ate the forbidden fruit “you will not die if you eat this forbidden fruit but gain the knowledge of good and evil.” Accordingly, they were seduced by the snake’s actions. Eve took the initiative and did what Adam was thinking when she took the desirable looking fruit and ate of the forbidden fruit and also gave the fruit to her willing husband. Immediately they knew they were naked. This reveals how in the real world the male Lucifer and female Lucifer began to realize subtly for the first time the growing awareness of being naked after eating from a certain forbidden fruit.

In our world's beginning as written in the Book of Genesis, Eden’s mount (super volcano) erupted and destroyed all plant life in Eden. This was necessary so that Adam and Eve could not eat from the tree of life and live forever. Accordingly, this reveals to us living in the dreamed world that eternal life exists in the real world. The dreamed Garden of Eden’s vegetation and nourishing river of life, with many other trees and plants, were destroyed by ash raining down and the intense heat of lava, as lava flowed down from Eden's mount and through to the Garden’s four divided rivers. After Eden’s destruction, Adam and Eve gave birth to offspring that had the inclination and desire to do good and evil. As Adam and Eve had offspring, it is equated with the real world where the thoughts of the male Lucifer and female Lucifer were telepathically passed to all angels. In our world, Adam and Eve's offspring inherited good and evil desires. This set the stage for a world where people are born with the tendencies to do both good and evil, and to live for a genetically determined amount of years. All people live to play roles in this dreamed world, where people can contrive and do things in secret, and where pride, hatred, competition, and selfishness for ones own are normal.

Every faithful angel (receiving telepathically from the thoughts of Michael and his twin spouse) and every rebellious angel (receiving telepathically from the thoughts of the male Lucifer and female Lucifer) are represented by people who play a righteous or rebellious part in our world. They become righteous or rebellious by their attitude to the new message of a true living messenger. Elohiym's (Michael's and his twin spouse's) dreamed world creates scenarios to reveal who in the dreamed world is equated with a faithful angel or rebellious angel in the real world. One scenario shows Cain rejecting the advice of Elohiym to instead offer a strange offering. His feelings were hurt after being rebuked by Elohiym because of his offering. Then, Abel gave his older brother Cain advice pertaining to the rebuke, which he did not want to hear. This angered Cain to the point where he killed his brother and attempted to conceal his actions. The male Lucifer's son was represented by Cain, and Michael's son was represented by Abel.

After Adam and Eve ate the fruit of the forbidden tree, it meant our world of good and evil would be male dominated. Accordingly, during the judgment, each scroll's first side is revealed to show how Elohiym's living prophets were rejected, persecuted and often times condemned to death by male leaders and their people that professed to believe the messages of God's former prophets. In our day, latter day Moses' message is the only means that determines whether a person is righteous or rebellious. Thereby being equated with a faithful angel or rebellious angel of the real world. This was also the case of patriarchs and prophets of past generations that represented Michael or Gabriel. In the days of Sodom and Gomorrah, Lot represented Gabriel, while Abraham represented Michael. A throng of Sodom's people were surrounding Lot's house in an attempt to take the two handsome male strangers, whom Michael and Gabriel instantly created temporarily in our dreamed world. They had arrived at Sodom and were taking refuge in Lot's house. The two male strangers represented Michael and Gabriel, whereas the throng outside the house represented the rebellious angels. Lot was warned by the two handsome strangers to flee the doomed city with any person he could convince to leave. Every person that Lot could convince to forsake the city before its destruction would be equated with a faithful angel.

Only the latter day messenger's message can gather the latter day living people who are equated with righteous angels in the real world. Also, this message reveals how the people who end up slain in the final battle of Armageddon had rejected the everlasting gospel. Accordingly, this dream world's rebellious people represent the rebellious angels in the real world that inherited the ways of the male Lucifer and female Lucifer.

Anything is possible in the world dreamed into existence. Moses' staff became a serpent in front of Pharaoh. However, the male Lucifer and female Lucifer in the real world were able to interact in the dreamed world, whereby Pharaoh's magicians were able to make their staffs into serpents in front of Moses. Evidently, Pharaoh and many of his people represented the male Lucifer and female Lucifer and the rebellious angels, whereas Aaron, Moses, and many faithful Israelite people with them represented Michael and Gabriel and the faithful angels. Elohiym caused Moses to perform many miracles to bring a nation of people out of Egypt. Initially, all of these people accepted old Moses' message to flee Egypt and travel to a land and inherit it as promised to them by Elohiym.

On the long journey to the old promised land of Canaan, Elohiym's message concerning the Israelites inheriting the land of Canaan created scenarios whereby a division would materialize between Moses with the faithful people (who were proven to still believe in Moses' message regarding the faithful Israelites receiving the old promised land) and the opposing leaders with their like-minded rebels. These leaders and their rebels no longer believed Moses could deliver them the promised land. This division revealed that the rebellious people in the dreamed world represented the rebellious angels in the real world. To fulfill Elohiym's promise as revealed through Moses, Elohiym gave the following generation of Israelite people the ability to war and drive out nations from the old promised land of Canaan. This is equated with the time when faithful angels will remain in the new promised land of the real world after the rebellious angels no longer live in the paradise of the real world.

To fulfill Elohiym's plan, Moses and Joshua received in the dreamed world the ability to perform many miracles in the sight of people. Joshua was able to command the sun to remain still in the sky (being an impossible act in a real world) so that they could finish their removal of the Canaanites with the extra time of sunlight. These miracles were necessary to establish an Israelite people in their own land to live by Elohiym's laws. The old promised land was a reflection of how faithful believers that followed the new message of a living messenger inherit a new Earth.

Also the Israelite nation would preserve historic and prophetic writings that would survive to the last generation of the dreamed world. The Israelites' historic lineage, laws, and the old promised land established by Elohiym were a reflection of the good knowledge which the righteous angels receive from Michael and his twin female spouse, just as righteous people become righteous by believing in Michael's and Gabriel's living messenger's message.

For Israel's own good and prosperity in the old promised land, the nation was commanded to continually remember, follow, and preserve their written laws and history, which pertained to its lineage from the time of the dreamed world's creation (as stated in the initial chapters of the Book of Genesis) through to its occupation of the promised land of Canaan. However, in the following generations of Israelites that lived in the promised land, many among the Israelite people rejected new laws and messages given through Elohiym's living prophets. Instead, the people wanted a king (leader) to rule over them. The appointed king and his advisers would then rule over the whole nation. Eventually, the king, his princes, and false prophets would influence and corrupt the temple's high priest, priests, and elders. The false prophets generally interpreted God's will in favor of whatever the king and his advisers wanted to accomplish. Accordingly, the people accepted and fulfilled the king's demands, which carried the corrupt high priest's, priests, and elders' blessings and the blessings of false prophets.

Since our world was dreamed into existence and allowed to play through to its end and thereafter replayed many times over during the judgment, it means Elohiym knows every thing that exists and happens and what people will say and do before it happens. Hence, there is nothing new under the sun; everything that exists has already existed in the previous replay of each generation. Accordingly, in every replayed generation, Elohiym would send a person in whom was the spirit of Michael or Gabriel to deliver Elohiym's message to the nation. The message usually had nothing good to say about the king and leaders of the people. Elohiym knew that this would create a division, because the king and his advisers would, of their own free will, always choose to reject the living prophet's words of warning pertaining to the nation, king, his advisers, and people. Instead the king, his advisers, and people believed the words of false prophets, who prophesied falsely saying God revealed to them that there would be peace and safety for the nation. The following generation of people living in the promised land would embrace the written words of Elohiym's dead prophets because their words of warning had happened as prophesied, even though their fore fathers had rejected, persecuted, and in many instances killed Elohiym's prophets and the people who believed their words of warning.

The influence of the nation's religious leaders, political leaders, and renowned individuals was so great that their nation's people would always accept their words over the warnings of Elohiym's living prophets. However, a remnant would instead go against the beliefs of mainstream society, including the beliefs of many offshoots, and accept and stay faithful to the new message of a living prophet in the face of ridicule and rejection by family, loved ones, friends, and associates. Many of these people endured punishment, imprisonment, and often times death for staying faithful to the words of Elohiym's living messenger. Thereby, these people revealed that a spirit of a faithful angel dwelt in their mind.

The Israelite leadership that ruled over the nation always rejected, punished, imprisoned, and usually killed Elohiym's prophets and the people who converted to their message. Thereafter that generation or the following generation met their fate according to the message of Elohiym's prophet. When the words of Elohiym's prophet happened as predicted, the next Israelite leadership would then accept the dead prophet's written visions.

Accordingly, they would preserve in writings his prophetic words from generation to generation, which also contained prophecies concerning how and when the dreamed world ends.

Elohiym prophesied, as spoken by the true prophets with a "Thus saith the Lord," that the nation of Israel in the promised land of Canaan would split into two separate nations, a northern and southern, after King Solomon's death. Thereafter, Elohiym's prophets warned that the northern kingdom of Israel would be taken into captivity by the Assyrian army, which happened as prophesied. Captivity could have been avoided if the leaders of the northern kingdom of Israel agreed to serve the Assyrian nation, as counseled by Elohiym's prophets to the leadership of the northern kingdom.

Other prophets, in whom was the spirit of Michael or Gabriel, were sent to speak Elohiym's words to the leaders of the remaining southern kingdom of Judah. These leaders were admonished by Elohiym's prophets to serve King Nebuchadnezzar of old Babylon, as many other nations had done, or rebel and face expulsion from Judea for a number of years. The Judean king and his patriotic advisers chose to reject Elohiym's counsel and instead rebel against serving the king of Babylon, as counseled by false prophets claiming to have been sent by Elohiym. Accordingly as prophesied by true prophets, the city Jerusalem and her temple were destroyed along with its king. Judah's population was removed from their land and made to serve in foreign lands of Babylon's kingdom, just as it happened in a previous replay of that generation.

In the days of old Babylon's reign over many nations, a prophet of Elohiym revealed that the Medes and Persians would unite to become the next kingdom to rule over the whole realm of old Babylon. Also, Elohiym's prophet prophesied that the king of Persia would decree to allow many peoples and nations, which had been taken into captivity by the Babylonians, to return to the land of their fathers. Accordingly as prophesied, the following generation of Judeans born in Babylonian captivity were permitted to return to the land of Judah and to rebuild Jerusalem and her temple.

Elohiym's prophet also prophesied that Grecia/Greece would reign over the whole kingdom of the Medes and Persians. Then after a certain amount of years, the expanded kingdom of Grecia would be divided into four kingdoms. From the western part of these four kingdoms arose the Roman empire. Elohiym knew the future outcome concerning Jerusalem and Judah before Jerusalem's leadership chose to rebel against serving the Roman empire. After Jerusalem's rebellion, Rome sent its army to lay siege on the fortified walls of rebellious Jerusalem until the Roman army found a way to enter, ravage, destroy the rebellious city of Jerusalem and her rebuilt temple, and deport the Judean people to serve in foreign lands. This scenario would cause many of the writings pertaining to Elohiym's prophets to be eventually lost and forgotten, as there would be no Israelite or Judean nation to religiously preserve and copy the prophets' scrolls as they had been copied from generation to generation. With this hindsight, Elohiym caused Yahshua/Jesus to create a new religion, which would flourish and thereby the old testament and new testament scriptures would be faithfully copied throughout all new testament generations.

Within Elohiym's mind is where our world and all things that exist and happening within and around it are being replayed. As time progressed in our world, there are more people, animals, technology, products, and sophisticated macro and micro items for the mind of Elohiym to recreate without error during every replay of our dreamed world. In the latter days of the dreamed world, all its animals, peoples, technology, products, and all things are being replayed from the memory of Elohiym just as they existed and happened in a previous replay. After the apostles and disciples of Yahshua/Jesus finished establishing a people that would religiously preserve and copy the scriptures of Elohiym's prophets, miracles were phased out. The reason is that after the apostles and disciples died, Elohiym's dreamed world would be based on logic and science rather than allowing superstitions and miracles to happen. Thereby the male Lucifer and female Lucifer could no longer interact in the dreamed world by causing individuals to perform miracles (as Pharaoh's servants changed their staffs into snakes) or supernatural feats.

During the many generations after Yahshua's/Jesus' and his apostles' generation, Elohiym permits only practical, logical, and scientific things to happen in the dreamed world. Therefore, Elohiym created the situation that would cause old testament and new testament manuscripts (many of which are compiled in the Bible) to be copied throughout the new testament generations. Thereby the manuscripts (many of which are compiled in the Bible) would be the only logical means of communicating with latter day Moses concerning things that happen in the latter days.

In a previous replay of every generation of our world, Elohiym has seen the effects of a living prophet's ministry on people who live in future generations and last generation. Accordingly, in an earlier replay of our world, Yahshua/Jesus was conceived in a normal way from the seed of Joseph in the womb of Mary. Also, in that particular replay, Yahshua did not perform miracles, had less apostles and friends, and did not offer eternal salvation. This did not have the desired effect to create converts in future generations that would feverishly defend and spread their belief in Jesus and salvation. Neither would the old and new testament scriptures exist to be religiously preserved in such a way as to be considered sacred. Elohiym needed the scriptures of prophets to be carefully and accurately interpreted and copied into all languages and be preserved to the last generation. The reason is so that the scriptures would instruct the latter day messenger and his apostles and disciples of things that will happen before and after the super volcano's eruption.

Elohiym reedited several times Jesus' generation until Jesus' life and ministry had the greatest impact on people living in future generations. Elohiym caused Yahshua/Jesus (in a replay of Jesus' generation) to be born without Mary being impregnated with the seed of her husband Joseph. During a replay of the Prophet Isaiah's generation (who lived several hundred years before Yahshua was born), Elohiym told Isaiah to write that a "virgin" shall conceive a son. When Yahshua/Jesus read what Isaiah had written concerning a virgin giving birth, Jesus thought he was fulfilling the written prophecies of the old testament when in fact those writings were written to prophesy of things that had already happened in a previous replay. Accordingly, certain parts of Jesus' life were being written by old testament prophets (that had lived and died hundreds of years before Jesus was born) after Jesus had lived, died and resurrected.

During the time of the judgment, dead rebellious males will manifest in the spirit (ghost) to be shown from the visions and oracles written on each scroll's first side and last scroll's (scroll of life's) first side why they are not living a life in the new heaven and new Earth. These rebellious males had rejected the message of a living messenger in the generation they had lived, and had failed to accept the everlasting gospel after they resurrected at the time when the super volcano exploded with a great earthquake after the sign of Jonah. These rebellious people failed to overcome their old beliefs and accept the present truth that reveals how this world ends the same way it had ended in a previous replay. There will be many religious people that were not saved because they rejected the present truth message of a living prophet, having failed to overcome their old beliefs that were based on someone's interpretation of what former prophets, messiahs, or messengers had said and written. However, the messages of former prophets, messiahs, and messengers applied to the people that lived in their generation only.

Old Moses' written laws and rituals pertained to the Israelite people only. They were to continue in those laws and rituals until Elohiym sent a prophet to instruct them to do differently or gave them a message of warning to also follow. In an old testament generation, a living prophet stated that Elohiym no longer cared whether people kept the Sabbath or feast days. Other prophets of Elohiym said the same, and also predicted that old Babylon would burn and destroy the temple, causing the golden Ark of the testament to melt, be cut in pieces, and forever be destroyed. Hundreds of years later, religious leaders and zealots tried to trap Yahshua/Jesus by trying to assert that Jesus must obey Moses' laws, even though the prevailing law in Judah at the time was enforced according to Roman decree. Elohiym caused Jesus to perform many miracles such as healing, creating food, raising the dead (miracles are not possible in a real world) for the sole reason as to gather a remnant of believers of that generation and also preserve old and new testament historic and prophetic writings, that would be copied from generation to generation to exist in the latter day generation. Yahshua's promise of salvation and the redemption of all sins pertained to people living in Yahshua's and the apostles' generation. Yahshua's and his apostles' and disciples' ministries set the stage for future generations to be converted, whereby they would religiously copy and safely preserve the old and new testament writings from generation to generation. Elohiym allowed Jesus to make promises to the people of his generation of things past prophets had not promised: salvation, pardon for all sins committed, eternal life, and his sacrificed life and message for the redemption of any sinner living in Yahshua's and his apostles' generation only. There are absolutely no promises of salvation and redemption of sin by Yahshua and his apostles and disciples for any person who was not living in their generation. Unfortunately for any Christians believing after the generation of Yahshua/Jesus and his apostles and early disciples, all biblical statements of salvation spoken by Jesus and his apostles and early disciples apply only to people living in their generation of about 2000 years ago. In every generation after the apostles' generation, people became righteous Christians overcoming their old beliefs by believing Elohiym's new message given by a living messenger.

In the present replay of all generations, every person that overcame and believed in a true living prophet will resurrect in the last generation at the end of the sign of Jonah to proclaim the everlasting gospel before the super volcano erupts smoke and ash for five months. After they have proclaimed the everlasting gospel and caused a great multitude to overcome their old beliefs, all overcomers will journey and enter the ensign of new Jerusalem to live a new everlasting life as perfect humans knowing only good in the Eden of the new Earth. At the same time, all overcomers will be standing as spirits within new Jerusalem during the judgment when each scroll's first side (that recorded the things that males did in each generation) is revealed.

In the last generation, Elohiym's written prophecies in the Bible are understood by the latter day living messenger. Thereby, the living messenger and his apostles can reveal the written warnings in the Bible before the sign of Jonah begins. After the sign of Jonah, the latter day messenger's apostles and disciples and all resurrected overcomers of all generations will learn a new song (everlasting gospel), which they proclaim from the new day of Pentecost. On the new day of Pentecost, all overcomers (that are of the first group and second group of redeemed) will receive the power of the Holy Spirit so they can proclaim the everlasting gospel to all nations, kindreds, tongues, and people. A great multitude (third group of redeemed) of all nations will be converted by the everlasting gospel. Then when the super volcano explodes and causes a great earthquake as smoke and ash erupt for five months, all three groups of redeemed will be traveling to the rising ensign. Then when the swelled to heaven super volcano is full of a lake of fire and radiating an intense light, all the redeemed will then enter new Jerusalem's ensign. Thereafter, the swelled to heaven super volcano will explode with a great eruption, that causes an earthquake such as never happened. Then the lake of fire will overflow and spread throughout the world. During the judgment, the rebellious angels and righteous angels will be telepathically viewing what took place in each generation of this dreamed world.

All events taking place in our world are being replayed. This is realized when Elohiym revealed to Jesus that before the next sunrise Peter will deny three separate times that he was associated with Jesus. Elohiym accurately knew the future because Peter had done the same thing in a previous replay of Jesus' generation. Jesus was betrayed by Judas Escariot, arrested by the Judean authorities in the garden of Gethsemane, imprisoned, tried for violations of old Moses' law. During Yahshua's court trial, the high priest questioned whether he was the anointed son of God. Yahshua/Jesus said that the high priest would see him (Yahshua) sitting on the right hand of power and coming with the clouds of heaven. With that confession, the former carpenter was instantly found guilty of the serious offense of blasphemy, which incurred the death penalty but could not be enforced by the Judean leadership. The Judean leadership instead pressured the Roman governor to put him to death. The Roman governor let the Judean people in Jerusalem decide whether Yahshua/Jesus should be put to death for claiming to be the messiah and son of God. The Judean people overwhelmingly cried out that he must be put to death for blasphemy. Accordingly, the former carpenter was sentenced to death. He was then ridiculed, whipped, crucified, died, and then resurrected. Without Jesus' resurrection and thereafter appearing alive to his apostles and disciples, his converts would have lost their faith, causing the new religion of Christianity to fail. After Jesus appeared to his apostles and disciples, it was also necessary for Elohiym to establish the idea of salvation through Jesus' sacrifice by giving the apostles and early disciples the ability to perform miracles. This was necessary to promote salvation through Jesus' name to make many converts throughout the nations before Rome destroyed Jerusalem and deported the Judean people, which meant that the scriptures would have been lost as time passed. The old and new testament scriptures have been preserved and many compiled in the Bible, so that the latter day messenger could understand Elohiym's written prophecies that happen in the latter days.

Jesus' apostles and early disciples had established the Christian religion, which was according to Elohiym's desire to preserve the old and new testament scriptures throughout the new testament generations to the last generation. In this last generation, the preserved scriptures are found in the Bible because they were adopted and accepted by nations that became Christian nations. Accordingly, the scriptures written by old and new testament prophets were preserved, translated, and copied from generation to generation. Many of these preserved manuscripts have been translated and compiled in a book called the Bible. Because Jesus' apostles and disciples testified to the miracles performed by Jesus, the death and resurrection of Jesus, and promise of salvation to live forever in a new world, today there is a Bible written in the language of every nation. During the new testament period of Elohiym's dreamed world, Elohiym permits only logical, scientific, and technological ideas and things to happen. Therefore, Elohiym's prophecies written in the Bible is the logical means of revealing to the latter day messenger things that will happen in the last generation.

In the days of old Babylon's reign, Daniel the prophet wrote his manuscript of how the world will end. Daniel revealed in his writings that the last kingdom to reign begins ending when the massive eruption of the super volcano happens, which is likened to an ejected stone cut out of a mountain (equated with the super volcano) that hits the kingdom of latter day Babylon. From the time of this massive eruption, the everlasting gospel will cease from being proclaimed to all nations, as all the redeemed (including the many resurrected martyrs that proclaimed the everlasting gospel to all nations) travel to the rising ensign. During that time, the super volcano (mountain) will be filling with a lake of fire as it swells to heaven while erupting smoke and ash for five months. At the end of five months of erupting smoke and ash from the immense 40-mile wide mouth of the swelled to heaven super volcano, an intense light (ensign) will be radiating around the swelled to heaven super volcano. Also great hailstones will be raining around the furnace of the swelled to heaven bottomless pit. An immense whirlwind of fire (equated with new Jerusalem) will then manifest around the swelled to heaven super volcano, full of a lake of fire. At that time, all the redeemed will be entering the ensign of new Jerusalem. After all the redeemed have entered new Jerusalem, then a massive eruption (that causes an earthquake such as never happened) will cause the lake of fire to overflow and spread throughout the USA and world. When the lake of fire is overflowing and spreading to cover the world, it is referred to as the stone (eruption) that became a great mountain (swelled to heaven super volcano) that covers the world in a lake of lava. Thereafter, the new heaven and new Earth are created while the judgment also begins.

Before latter day Babylon began to reign in the last generation, a nation (USA) causes an overwhelming display of fire (missiles) from heaven to fall on a rogue nation. Then the USA causes the union of nations to unite and enforce the USA's ideals on the overthrown nation. This situation happens three separate times before the final/third reigning period of latter day Babylon comes to its end when a massive eruption causes the super volcano to erupt smoke and ash for five months. Prior to latter day Babylon's kingdom ending, the union of nations agrees to enforce what the USA's leadership envisions for the world's future on certain non-conforming nations. Any nation that refuses to comply with the USA's vision that it promotes and prophecies for the world's future will be hit with economic sanctions and/or military intervention. When the union of nations agrees to enforce the USA's vision for the world on non-conforming nations, it is then ruling as the latter day seven-headed ten-horned beast of confusion/Babylon. The USA's vision for the world's future is contrary to the visions and oracles revealed from the Bible by the latter day messenger, who reveals that the world will soon replay its fated end. The latter day messenger prophecies of latter day Babylon's and the world's imminent demise, according to the manuscripts compiled in the Bible that were written by Elohiym's former prophets. These particular manuscripts have been copied from generation to generation, which have survived to be compiled in the Bible. Prior to the end of latter day Babylon's final reigning period, the latter day messenger's message causes a division among the people, whereby some will overcome their old beliefs and stay faithful to his message while the minds of the majority are held captive by the general ways and traditions of society.

The end of this world will happen again as stated by the written prophecies in the Bible, which can be correctly interpreted by the latter day messenger only. His interpretation reveals that the USA's states will begin being tormented by darkness, anarchy, and famine during the five months when smoke and ash are erupting from the super volcano, which is located within the USA. Darkness will begin spreading over the states of the USA. Hence, the light of the sun by day and moon and stars by night will be, as it were, progressively blotted out. Progressing darkness, famine, and anarchy will torment the USA's states. Thereafter, the total destruction of latter day Babylon's kingdom happens when the swelled to heaven super volcano overflows with a spreading lake of fire.

When the super volcano erupts smoke and ash, every person that accepted in their mind (forehead) the message of the everlasting gospel will forsake their loved ones, possessions, and nation to travel to the intensely bright white light of the ensign emanating from new Jerusalem, in which is the lifted-up to heaven super volcano's immense mouth full of a lake of fire. When all overcomers have entered the bright light emanating from New Jerusalem and the world is covered in a lake of flowing fire, from that time the overcomers will be living in a new heaven and new Earth without any memory that an old heaven and old Earth existed. At the same time, all overcomers will stand as spirits before the fiery judgment throne, as the judgment begins when the world is covered in a lake of fire. These faithful people will then be equated with the faithful angels in the garden of paradise of the real world. All the rebellious people that will have rejected the everlasting gospel having chose to instead remain with their loved ones and possessions in their land in the hope of surviving will have perished, as the entire world will be dissolved in a spreading lake of lava. All rebellious people will manifest as spirits (ghosts) outside New Jerusalem to view the judgment taking place. These rebellious spirits will then be equated with the rebellious angels in the real world.

After the entire dreamed world is covered by an overflowing and spreading lake of lava, the dreamed judgment will begin. What this means is, Michael and his twin spouse will then reveal telepathically all events that happen during the judgment to all the angels living in the garden of paradise of the real world. The garden of paradise is where the faithful perfect humans and rebellious perfect humans live in the real world. During the judgment, Michael (father) and Gabriel (son) have remembered and revealed, just as many scrolls' first side are opened to recount their stories, all things that male adults had done in each generation of this dreamed world. In that time, their memories revealed the things that happened in a world of good and evil to all angels living in the garden of paradise of the real world. They telepathically reveal how in every generation of a dreamed world where good and evil existed, there were people suffering from poverty, illness, famine, wars, deformity, victims of crime, depression, suicide, hatred, and painful deaths, etc, while at the same time others were surrounding themselves with excessive possessions of wealth, comfort, lust, envy, greed, selfishness, and immorality.

Michael and Gabriel will also reveal how a flood of waters rained and drown all of mankind, except the faithful few people and animals that were saved in an ark-shaped boat by believing Elohiym's words of warning. After these visions are revealed to the faithful angels and rebellious angels, all of them will view the spirits of rebellious people and righteous people around the judgment throne agreeing on bent knees that Michael and Gabriel are righteous (correct/right) to allow the destruction by a flood of waters because of the evils that were taking place, including the people that chose to reject Noah's warnings and remain on the land. After the flood were born the future generations of people from the genetics of the most upstanding living man Noah. Thereby Noah's descendants would have the best genetics that would be passed down from generation to generation to reveal the best possible society in a world where people are able to simultaneously know/do good and evil.

During the dreamed judgment, Michael and Gabriel reveal telepathically to all angels (perfect humans) how, in every generation of the dreamed world, the male leaders would always reject the prophets that Elohiym sent to warn them of impending danger. Instead of these leaders obeying the words of warning, they and their people revealed their human nature by choosing to reject, punish, imprison, and often times kill Elohiym's messengers and the people that followed them. Michael and Gabriel will show telepathically the visions that reveal how these male leaders and their people were overthrown and destroyed by foreign nations, as warned by the living messenger. The angels in the garden of paradise are viewing telepathically the events that happened in the dreamed world during the judgment, as they see the manifested spirits of rebellious people and righteous people playing a part in the judgment scene all agreeing on bent knees that Michael and Gabriel were right to allow the overthrow and destruction of Sodom, old Israel, Judah and Jerusalem, as warned by Elohiym's prophets.

During the judgment, Michael recalled from a part of his memory (as if written as visions and oracles on the last small part of the seventh part of the scroll of life's first side) and Gabriel recalled from part of his message (as if written on the first small part of the seventh part of the scroll of life's other side) the time when latter day Babylon was reigning three separate times in the last generation of the dreamed world. They also revealed the things that adult males had done when they rejected the latter day messenger's message before the sign of Jonah began and when they rejected the everlasting gospel to be the plagues issuing from the super volcano. After the faithful angels and rebellious angels view telepathically Michael's and Gabriel's visions and oracles within each of their own minds, they will again see the spirits of rebellious people and righteous people around the judgment throne all fall on their knees to declare that Michael and Gabriel are righteous for allowing the deaths of rebellious people that rejected the living messenger's message of warning and also rejected the everlasting gospel. Michael and Gabriel also revealed telepathically a vision to the righteous and rebellious angels that shows how the people that accepted the living messenger's message and the people that accepted the everlasting gospel escaped death by the plagues loosed from the erupting super volcano and are seen dwelling in a newly dreamed earth. The new Earth will have been created after the old dreamed Earth was dissolved in a lake of fire.

During the judgment that is presently happening, all generations from Genesis through the last generation are replayed many times over and over. This is necessary to educate the righteous angels and rebellious angels concerning the ways and things that happen in this world of good and evil, just as it is necessary to watch a complicated movie several times to understand it. After a certain amount of replays of all generations, the new heaven and new Earth, and the time of the judgment, the male Lucifer and female Lucifer will understand that after a certain amount of years they will die because of eating the fruit of good and evil, just as Adam and Eve died because they ate the fruit of good and evil. Also they will realize that the perfect world where they live will become like the dreamed world, where people lie, cheat, steal, kill change the natural into unnatural, have illnesses, birth defects, and die. A terrible feeling of sadness and despair falls upon the male Lucifer and female Lucifer, whereby they no longer want to eat and drink, as their perfect bodies whither away and die. The angels that are of the male Lucifer and female Lucifer will also experience a terrible feeling of sadness and despair when they also realize that their parents are to die. When the male Lucifer and female Lucifer have died, their angels will also be of such sadness and despair that they will not have the appetite to eat or drink, as they whither away and die.

Our dreamed world of good and evil is created by Elohiym's mind. It is dreamed into existence to reveal how a world of good and evil acts to reveal what will happen to the real world if evil ways are allowed to coexist with good ways. The latter day messenger's message will find the people in this dreamed world that are equated with the perfect faithful angels living in the garden of paradise of the real world, just as his message found them in the previous replays of the last generation.
